STATEMENT OF ODJECTS AND REASONS.

The Government of India has recognized importance of facilitating to the utmost the preution of local works of improvement, and come to the conclusion that a system somewimilar to that established under the English I lie Works Loan Acts may be introduced in I with much advantage. The Government with much advantage. The Government with make advances, to be repaid with interest iterm of years, for works of certain classes, public utility of which was duly ascertained. certain maximum sum would be placed at the cand of the Local Governments, to be applied in making such advances, on which they would perate, the power of extending the advances to lew objects being limited by the obligation not to exceed that sum, so that when the whole authorized sum was once advanced, the earlier lonus must be paid off before fresh ones could be made.

It has been ruled, however, more than once recently, that it is not desirable to give the local bodies who deal with local or municipal revenues adependent powers of borrowing, and that, when br any special reason it may be expedient that ands should be horrowed for local objects, the lovernment itself should lend the money. This course has been followed in several cases.

But in most of these cases there is no means of giving the Government a legal lien on the revenues on the security of which the loans are made. A municipal body or a person administering local yenues has no power to do more than deal with the revenue as it is received, and cannot give any lid pledge that the income of future years shall applied in a particular way, unless under extess legislative authority, which certainly has no xistence in the case of most of the Local Funds in India. When the last law regarding municipatities in the North-Western Provinces, Act VI. of 868, was passed, the power of borrowing was leliberately rejected by the Government of India and the Legislative Council.

The present Bill has therefore been prepared in he Public Works Department in order to provide for the making of advances of public money for works of public willity to local or municipal bodies, obtaining at the same time valid security for their repayment from the funds at the disposal of such bodies.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE attention of Government was drawn in 1868 to the injuries which had been sustained in the district of the 24-Pergunuahs from inundation, owing to certain obstructions which had been erected in a drainage channel, and the removal of which the magistrate stated could not be effected until the requisite legal formalities had been complied with; admitting at the same time that the removal of the obstructions was necessary for the public good, and it was considered that the existing law was not sufficiently stringent to meet such cases.

The opinion of qualified local officers was called for as to the points on which the present Embankment Act requires amendment, and in giving effect to those amendments it is deemed expedient to consolidate the existing laws for the acquisition of land, for the construction of embankments, and for their maintenance.

The objects sought to be attained by the modifications proposed in the existing laws are to extend the provisions of the Act so as to include within their operation the drainage of tracts of country which may be intimately connected with embankments; to include under the definition of "embankments" works which, though not embankments, are strictly accessories to embankments and without which it is impossible to secure the stability of the latter; to provide for the removal of impediments to drainage, and for the construction of works necessary to the drainage as well as to the protection from inuntiation of any land; to give greater facilities of action in cases when delay may be attended with grave and imminent dauger to life and property; to provide compensation for injury or loss to individuals caused by such action; to secure the more effective maintenance of private embankments, and to determine more equitably the mode in which the cost therefor incurred should be recoverable from the parties liable to pay the same, or from those benefited by such works; and lastly, to secure by more stringent penalties, embankments, and drainnge works from wilful injury.

To render the Act more complete, the provisions of the existing laws for the nequisition of land required for works of the description specified in the Act have been incorporated therewith.

 Government.
- Money not to be been administering any Local or Municipal Fund who is not authorized by some special law to borrow money on the security of such Fund shall borrow money on such accounty otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Government of India has recognized the importance of facilitating to the utmost the prosecution of local works of improvement, and has come to the conclusion that a system somewhat similar to that established under the English Public Works Loan Acts may be introduced in India with much advantage. The Government would make advances, to be repaid with interest in a term of years, for works of certain alasses, the public utility of which was duly accertained. A certain maximum sum would be placed at the command of the Local Governments, to be applied in making such advances, on which they would operate, the power of extending the advances to new objects being limited by the obligation not to exceed that sum, so that, when the whole authorized sum was once advanced, the earlier loans must be paid off before fresh ones could be made.

It has been ruled, however, more than once recently, that it is not desirable to give the local bodies who deal with local or municipal revenues independent powers of borrowing, and that, when for any special reason it may be expedient that lards should be borrowed for local objects, the Government itself should lend the money. This course has been followed in several cases.

But in most of these cases there is no means of giving the. Government a legal lieu on the revenues on the security of which the leans are made. A municipal body or a person administering beal revenues has no power to do more than deal with the revenue as it is received, and cannot give any valid pledge that the income of future years shall be applied in a particular way, unless under express legislative authority, which certainly has no existence in the case of most of the Local Funds in India. When the last law regarding municipalities in the North-Western Provinces, Act V! of 1868, was passed, the power of borrowing was deliberately rejected by the Government of India and the Legislative Council.

The present Bill has therefore been prepared in the Public Works Department in order to provide for the making of advances of public money for works of public utility to local or numicipal bodies, obtaining at the same time valid security for their repayment from the funds at the disposal of such bodies.

STATEMENT OF ORJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill has two primary objects, one, to consolidate the law relating to Pleaders, Mukhtars and Revenue Agents, the other, to amend that law so far as it relates to agreements between certain legal practitioners and their clients.

In Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, the Panjáb and Oudh, the law on the subject is contained in three Acts (XX of 1865, XXIX of 1865 and IX of 1866): in the Presidencies of Madras and Bombay it is contained in Acts I of 1846, XX of 1853, Madras Regulation XIV of 1816, and Bombay Regulation II of 1827, chapter VI; in the Panjáb, Act IV of 1866 (sections ten, eleven, twelve, forty-four and fifty-one) contains some special provisions us to Plenders in the Chief Court and their fees; and in British Burma the Recorders' Courts Act XXI of 1863 (sections sixteen, seventeen and eighteen) contains similar provisions. The Central Provinces and all British Burma outside the local limits of the Recorders' jurisdiction appear to be devoid of any law on the subject.

The present Bill consolidates and extends to the whole of British India such of the provisions of Acts XX of 1865 and XXIX of 1865 as appear to be generally applicable to the country.

With regard to agreements for remuneration between clients and their legal advisors, Act XX of 1865, section thirty-nine, permits such agreements to be made, and declares that they shall not be enforced otherwise than by regular suit.

This provision, which has been held to place such agreements on the same footing as an ordinary contract between private persons, has, for obvious reasons, not worked satisfactorily. A flagrant instance of the evil of the present law is furnished by the recent case of Nuthoo Lull v. Budree Pecshad, I Allahabad Reports 1; and though the High Court there held that it was not the duty of the lower Courts to decree (as they had done), on mere proof of the contract, the enforcement of an extortionate bargain between a pleader and his elient, the legislature should not leave so important a rule to depend on the decision of a single High Court. The Bill repeals the section in question, and replaces it by a set of provisions modelled on the recent English Statute 33 & 34 Vic., Cap. 28 (to amend the law relating to the remuneration of Allorneys and Solicitors), sections four, six, sevon, eight, nine, eleven, thirteen and fourteen.

Section thirty-three of the Bill declares that pleaders, &c., may make agreements as to their remuneration, but that the amount agreed on shall not be paid until the agreement has been examined and allowed by an officer of the High Court or of the District Court. The Court is empowered either to reduce the amount or to order the agreement to be cancelled. The agreement (section thirty-four) will exclude further claims in respect of the business therein referred to. sions relieving the pleader, &c., from liability for negligence will be void (section thirty-five). suits are to be brought on such agreements, but on petition of either party the Court may enforce or set it aside (section thirty-six). The Bill then declares void (a) purchases by a pleader of his client's interest in future suits or in unsatisfied deerees, and (b) agreements by which the pleader stipulates for payment only in the event of success. Provision is made (section thirty-eight) for the case of the pleader's death or incapacity, and the client is empowered (section thirty-nine) to change his pleader notwithstanding such agreement.

The other novel provisions of the Bill are only

At the recommendation of the Government of Bengal, all Mukhtárs are restored to the privilege of appearing, pleading and acting in Criminal Courts, which they formerly enjoyed under Act XX of 1865, and Mukhtárs heretofore admitted and enrolled in Lower Bengal as Revenue Agents are empowered (section seven) to appear and act in suits in Munsifs' Courts under Bengal Act VIII of 1869 (to amend the procedure in suits between landlord and tenant).

Penalties are provided (section forty-five) for Advocates, Plenders and Mukhtúrs removed or suspended by a High Court who practise after such removal or during such suspension.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The attention of Government was drawn in 1868 to the injuries which had been sustained in the district of the 24-Pergunuahs from inundation, owing to certain obstructions which had been creeted in a drainage channel, and the removal of which the magistrate stated could not be effected until the requisite legal formalities had been complied with; admitting at the same time that the removal of the obstructions was necessary for the public good, and it was considered that the existing law was not sufficiently stringent to meet such cases.

The opinion of qualified local officers was called for as to the points on which the present Embankment Act requires amendment, and in giving effect to those amendments it is deemed expedient to consolidate the existing laws for the acquisition of land, for the construction of embankments, and for their maintenance.

The objects sought to be attained by the modifications proposed in the existing laws are to extend the provisions of the Act so as to include within their operation the drainage of tracts of country which may be intimately connected with embankments; to include under the definition of "embankments" works which, though not embankments, are strictly accessories to embankments and without which it is impossible to secure the stability of the latter; to provide for the removal of impediments to drainage, and for the construction of works necessary to the drainage as well as to the protection from inundation of any land; to give greater facilities of action in cases when delay may be attended with grave and imminent danger to life and property; to provide compensation for injury or loss to individuals caused by such action; to secure the more effective maintenance of private embankments, and to determine more equitably the mode in which the cost therefor incurred should be recoverable from the parties liable to pay the same, or from those benefited by such works; and lastly, to secure by more stringent penalties, embankments, and drainage works from wilful injury.

To render the Act more complete, the provisions of the existing laws for the acquisition of land required for works of the description specified in the Act have been incorporated therewith.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Duning certain religious festivals at the town of Pooree and other places in Orissa, the lodginghouses to which pilgrims resort are much over-crowded, and are in many respects wholly un-suited for human habitation. The sanitary arrangements urgently required for preserving the health of the large number of pilgrims are altogether wanting, and much discase and mortality has arisen in consequence, and has been spread throughout the towns and districts through which the pilgrims pass on their return. It is therefore proposed to pass an Act for the regulation of the lodging-houses, and for raising by fees for licenses on the owners of such houses a sum which shall be taken as a contribution to the conservancy fund of the town of Poorce. The fund it is also intended to increase by other measures unconnected with the Bill, and it is hoped that by these means such sanitary improvements may be undertaken at the towns in which the shrines are situated, and on the roads leading to these towns, as shall tend materially to check the sickness and disease so fatal to the pilgrims.

Circular Orders by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

From F. B. Paacock, Esq., Registrar of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, to all Zillah Judges and Judicial Commissioners, and Judges of Small Cause Courts,—(No. 37, dated Calcutta, the 23nd December 1870.)

(CIVIE SIDE.)

THE Court directs that, until the rules contemplated in the Court Fees' Act (VII. of 1870) shall have been published, adhesive Court fee stamps be received in lieu of each payments for Peons' fees in all the Civil Courts of the Regulation and Non-Regulation Districts of Bengal, and that a Memo. book be kept up in each Court showing the value of the stamps put in as is done with regard to the stamps used for plaints and appeals.

By order of the High Court,

F. B. Pracock, Registrar.

From F. B. PRACOCK, Esq., Registrer of the High Court of Judicalare at Fort William in Bengal, to the Superintendent of Sationery,—(No. 3816, dated Calcutta, the 17th December 1870.)

(CIVIL AND CRIMINAL SIDES.)

WITH a view to enable the Civil and Criminal

Forms, Civil and Criminal.

A. Statement of Civil work in the Court of Subardinate Judge or Moousiff, as the case may be.

B. Statement of appeals before the Courts of Subardinate Judges.

C. Statement of succellment a work.

(Two forms hear this letter, one for Subardinate Judges, the other for Moonsiffs.)

D. Statement of offences reported and persons tried.

Authorities subordinate to Civit and Sessions Judges to Periodical make Returns to the latter in such forms as shall be available for the preparation of the Quarterly Returns enjoined on such Judges by C. O. No. 31, dated 4th November last, the Court have prepared stip forms (A, B, C, & D) as per margin, of which specimens are sent herewith, and direct me to request you will be so good as to provide at once a sufficient supply of the same for the use of Subordinate Judges and Moonsiffs as well as of District Magistrates and Sub-divisional Officers.

2. As regards the Civil forms (A, B, & C), I am to point out that Statement B, which relates to appeals only, will not be required for Moonsiffs whose Courts are purely Courts of original jurisdiction: of this form, therefore, a smaller supply will suffice. Specimens of the three forms above mentioned in both Bengali and Oordoo* are sent herewith. These Returns will be submitted by the various subordinate Courts to the Judge monthly. Each Officer will therefore require twenty-four as a year's supply, i.e., one for desputch and one for record in his Office each month. To this number six more may be added to meet contingencies, accidents, &c. A year's supply therefore to each Subordinate Civil Officer should not exceed thirty conies.

3. Form D, which is Criminal, will be required by Sub-divisional Officers, and a specimen in Bengali and Oordoo is accordingly forwarded.

4. As the above Return will be required to be made quarterly, and as two copies will be necessary for each Officer, one for his Office draft and the other for the despatch copy, eight copies would be necessary, to which might be added four copies to provide for accidents and other contingencies. It will therefore be sufficient if twelve copies of each form are provided by you as a year's supply for each Officer requiring them.

5. For your information and guidance in applying the above principle, and with a view to check local indents, I am to append hereto a list showing the number of Subordinate Judges and Moonsiffs in each Judgeship, as well as the number of Magistracies and sub-divisions subordinate to the High Court.

- 6. In requesting you in the first paragraph of this letter to lay in a sufficient stock of these statements, the Court are particularly anxious to avoid a very large stock of Vernacular slipe being at once printed. It is their intention to direct Judges and Magistrates, in making their indents, to specify the number of Slip Statements that they will require in English and in the Vernacular, and, after these forms have been in use a short time, you will probably not find much difficulty in estimating with tolerable exactness the number of both kinds which you will require to keep in store.
 - 7. I am to remind you, in conclusion, that all indents from Subordinate Judges and Moonsiffs are to be submitted through their superior the District Judge, as provided in puregraph 3 of C. D. No. 16, dated 17th June 1870.

I have, &co.,

F. B. PEACOCK,

Registrar.

P. S.—A set of these forms when printed or hithographed should be sent for record in this Office.

CIRCULAR MEMO. No. 7.

Corr forwarded to all Zillab Judges and District Magistrates for information and guidance, with the request that, in making their indents upon the Superintendent of Stationery, they will pay particular attention to the instructions given to that Officer in the 4th paragraph of the annexed letter, and to invariably inform him of the number of Slip Statements required by them in English and the Vernacular.

By order, &c., F. B. Peacook, Registrar. Statement showing the number of Subordinate Judges ... Mountiffs, and Sub-divisions.
